

MISCELLANEOUS FEES

Rates Subject to Change

Students enrolled for the fall and spring semester at Saint Louis University are assessed fees associated with their primary college or school, regardless of the course(s) taken.

Students with full-time time-status will pay full-time fees while students with less than full-time time-status will pay part-time fees. See the Time Status policy (<https://catalog.slu.edu/academic-policies/academic-policies-procedures/time-status/>) for more information.

All fees listed below are for the fall and spring semesters unless otherwise noted.

University Fee

$435 per semester (fall/spring) for full-time students, $250 per semester (fall/spring) for part-time students, or $60 per eight-week term or $120 per semester (fall/spring) for online or distance learning programs.

This fee funds the following:

- Simon Recreation Center and programs provided by the Student Health and Counseling Center
- The University's campus-wide wireless network
- Busch Student Center support
- Daily copies of The New York Times, St. Louis Post-Dispatch and USA Today on campus
- Student admission to all Billiken athletic events, including 1,000 seats in the student section of Chaifetz Arena for men's basketball games
- Direct student support services.

Student Government Activity

$65 per semester for undergraduate students or $30 per semester for graduate/professional students.

This fee funds student organizations and campus programming.

Orientation Fees

Orientation and Fall Welcome

$200 one-time fee charged to new students† during their first semester.
