

NURSING PRACTICE, D.N.P. (POST-MASTER OF SCIENCE)

At Saint Louis University Trudy Busch Valentine School of Nursing, our Doctor of Nursing Practice (D.N.P.) is a practice-focused doctoral degree that educates nurses to become expert clinicians, leaders in health policy, and catalysts for improved health care delivery in an interprofessional environment.

This online program is available to students who possess a master's degree in an advanced practice area such as a nurse practitioner or clinical nurse specialist. We offer two options within the Master of Science in Nursing-Doctor of Nursing Practice (M.S.N.-D.N.P.) program: advanced nursing practice and nurse executive leader.

- State-of-the-art teaching facilities

Curriculum Overview

The post-master's D.N.P. program requires a total of 30 credits beyond the M.S.N. At the discretion of the Valentine School of Nursing, you may be able to transfer five to six credits of comparable graduate-level coursework.

The curriculum provides flexible sequencing of courses that are offered online in the fall, spring and summer semesters. The program requires one visit to the St. Louis campus at the end of the program to present the D.N.P. project. This project is based on your interest and synthesizes the knowledge you gain throughout the program. It will focus on a practice change initiative in risk reduction, such as a program evaluation, a quality improvement project, an evaluation of a new practice model, a consulting project or a pilot study.

At SLU, we partner with you on preceptors and clinical placement. Besides being paired with a faculty mentor with expertise in each student's desired field of study, the Valentine School of Nursing has a three-tiered process for helping students obtain preceptors for their clinical rotations.

Careers

Doctor of Nursing Practice program graduates are prepared to be nurse clinicians or educators. Graduates influence health policy at institutional, local, state and national levels and formulate strategies to maximize patient health.
